

RECOMMENDATIONS

Taiwan

- The Commission recommends that Congress encourage the Administration to continue to work with Taiwan to modernize its military and enhance Taiwan's capabilities for operating jointly with U.S. and allied forces, and make available to Taiwan the defensive weapons it needs for its military forces.
- The Commission recommends that Congress urge the Administration to promote Taiwan's inclusion in international organizations where statehood is not a prerequisite, such as the World Health Organization (WHO).

India

- The Commission recommends that Members of Congress engage in dialogue with members of the Indian parliament on important issues in U.S., India, and China relations.
- The Commission recommends that Congress encourage the Administration to engage in broader and deeper dialogue with the government of India on China's activities and influence in the region.

Hong Kong

- The Commission recommends that Members of Congress, when visiting mainland China, also visit Hong Kong, and that Congress encourage senior Administration officials, including the Secretary of State, to make visits to Hong Kong part of their travel to China.
- The Commission recommends that Congress urge the Administration to maintain a close watch on the development of democratic freedoms in Hong Kong, and formally protest if at any point there is a significant erosion of suffrage, media freedom, or human rights there.
- The Commission recommends that Congress voice its disapproval of the delay in implementing universal suffrage in Hong Kong and the Hong Kong government's consideration of altering the definition of universal suffrage to include options other than "one person, one vote."
- The Commission recommends that Congress reenact the reporting requirements of the Hong Kong Policy Act of 1992, which expired in 2007, that required the Administration to monitor and report on Hong Kong's progress toward universal suffrage, the state of the Hong Kong economy, and the relationship between Hong Kong and mainland China.