Freedom of Expression in China

- The Commission recommends that Members of Congress in their interparliamentary exchanges continue to raise concerns regarding freedom of expression in China in their dialogues with officials of the Chinese government.
- The Commission recommends that Congress continue to monitor and assess the development and progress of industry and other efforts to create and implement an effective code of ethics and best practices related to the operations of U.S. high-tech firms in China and other authoritarian countries where Internet content and activity are controlled and monitored by the government.
- The Commission recommends that Congress continue to monitor and assess the Chinese government's efforts to implement an end-user Internet control system. The Commission further recommends that Congress assess whether such efforts are compliant with China's commitments as a signatory to the World Trade Organization.

China's External Propaganda and Influence Operations' and the Resulting Impacts on the United States

- The Commission recommends that Congress urge the administration to have the U.S. Department of State raise with its counterparts in the PRC Foreign Ministry concerns related to the denial of visas to U.S. academics who require travel to China in order to engage in substantive research.
