

ARE YOU INTERESTED IN AN ADMINISTRATIVE INTERNSHIP?

The U.S.-China Economic & Security Review Commission has ongoing openings for Administrative Interns for undergraduate-level students with an interest in office or business administration.

POSITION REQUIREMENTS:

All applicants for Administrative Internships must be U.S. citizens (or have applied for U.S. citizenship and naturalization), and must have at least a 3.0 GPA (on a 4.0 scale).

Candidates must be undergraduate college students in good standing. Coursework with a focus in business, accounting, finance, operations management, human resources, communication, or specialization in other related fields is desirable.

Candidates should demonstrate strong organizational, writing, and verbal communication skills, proficiency in Microsoft Office applications, and be willing to undertake a variety of operational and administrative tasks.

MAJOR DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES:

Administrative Interns assist the Commission's administrative staff in their day-to-day responsibilities. These responsibilities include: providing operational assistance to Commission staff members in such areas as accounting, personnel management, procurement and acquisition, records management, and travel; preparing for hearings and meetings; and, editing and formatting transcripts, reports, and official correspondence.

Administrative Interns may work full-time or part-time. Administrative Interns not receiving academic credit may qualify to be paid on an hourly basis.
