

Andrew Szamosszegi, Principal, Capital Trade, Inc.

Mr. Szamosszegi specializes in international economics and trade policy. He has consulted for U.S. and international clients on a wide range of economic and policy topics, including free trade agreements, targeted subsidies, currency valuation, budget scoring, economic aspects of intellectual property rights, and the technical aspects of antidumping and countervailing duty margins. His experience covers industrial, high technology, and agricultural products, with a regional focus on East Asian and Middle Eastern economies.

Mr. Szamosszegi has appeared as a witness at hearings before the U.S. International Trade Commission, the Department of Commerce, the U.S.-China Economic and Security Review Commission, and other government bodies. Prior to entering the field of consulting Mr. Szamosszegi was a researcher at the Economic Strategy Institute, where he focused on trade, direct investment, and the competitiveness of U.S. industries. Mr. Szamosszegi earned his A.B. (Cum Laude) from Harvard University, studied at the University of Nagoya in Nagoya, Japan, and received his M.A. in Pacific International Affairs from the University of California, San Diego.