

Ian Oxnevad

Senior Fellow, Foreign Affairs and Security Studies, National Association of Scholars

Dr. Ian Oxnevad is Senior Fellow for Foreign Affairs and Security Studies at the National Association of Scholars. He is a political scientist and political economist with an academic background in economic warfare, counter-terrorist financing, corporate espionage, and geopolitics. He is the author of Making a Killing: States, Banks and Terrorism from McGill-Queens University Press (2021), Middle East Politics for the New Millennium (2016), and After Confucius: China's Enduring Influence in Higher Education (2022) from the National Association of Scholars. Dr. Oxnevad has served as an expert witness and consulted in the private sector on issues of political risk in business. He holds a PhD in Political Science from the University of California and holds a MA in National Security Studies as well as BAs in Arabic and English.