

Noah Barkin

Senior Advisor in Rhodium Group's China practice

Mr. Noah Barkin is a Senior Advisor in Rhodium Group's China practice, based in Berlin, where he focuses on Europe-China relations and transatlantic China policy. He is also a Visiting Senior Fellow in the Indo-Pacific Program at the German Marshall Fund of the United States and creator of the popular "Watching China in Europe" newsletter. Previously he worked as a bureau chief, regional editor and Europe correspondent for Reuters, based in Berlin, Paris, London and New York. He has also written for The Atlantic, The New York Times, Foreign Policy and Politico, as well as leading European publications. Noah is a regular speaker and moderator on European foreign policy issues, is quoted widely in the press, and is the author of a book on the euro. He has been a visiting fellow at the Mercator Institute for China Studies in Berlin and the American-German Institute in Washington. A native Californian, he has a Bachelor's degree in Political Science and French from the University of California at Berkeley and a Master's degree from Columbia University's School of International and Public Affairs.

Mr. Barkin has not previously testified before the Commission.