

Blaine V. Curcio

Founder, Orbital Gateway Consulting

Blaine Curcio is Founder of Orbital Gateway Consulting, a consulting and research firm focused on the Chinese space sector. Mr. Curcio is the preeminent expert on the Chinese space industry, having worked with Chinese and Western space companies on business development, international cooperation, and market analyses since 2010. His primary areas of focus include satellite communications, launch vehicles, space industrial base, and the intersection of space and large terrestrial markets. In addition to his role at Orbital Gateway Consulting, Mr Curcio is Senior Advisor at Novaspace, Publisher of the China Space Monitor Substack, and serves as the Young Executive on the Board of Directors of the Asia-Pacific Space Community Council (APSCC), an NGO based in Seoul, South Korea.

Mr. Curcio has not previously testified before the Commission.