Dr. Oded Shenkar, Ford Motor Company Chair in Global Business Management, Fisher College of Business, Ohio State University

Professor Shenkar is currently the Ford Motor Company Chair in Global Business Management and Professor of Management and Human Resources at the Fisher College of Business, The Ohio State University, where he heads the international business area, and is also a member of the Centers for Chinese Studies and for Near East Studies. Professor Shenkar was a Senior Fellow at the University of Cambridge, and taught at the Chinese University of Hong Kong, Hong Kong University of Science & Technology, Peking University, University of International Business and Economics (Beijing), and the International University of Japan, among many others.

Professor Shenkar has published more than a hundred scholarly articles in leading journals such as Academy of Management Review, Academy of Management Journal, Journal of Applied Psychology, Human Relations, Journal of International Business Studies, Strategic Management Journal, and the Harvard Business Review, among many others. His books include Organization and Management in China 1979-1990, International Business in China, Global Perspectives on Human Resource Management, The Handbook of International Management Research, International Business, The Handbook of Strategic Alliances, The Chinese Century, The Great Deleveraging, and Copycats: how smart companies use imitation to gain a strategic edge. His work has been cited by dozens of publications and media outlets.

Professor Shenkar has been an advisor to firms, governments, international institutions and universities worldwide. He has testified before the U.S.-China Commission numerous times.

He holds degrees in East-Asian (Chinese) studies and sociology from the Hebrew University of Jerusalem and a Ph.D. from Columbia University, where his dissertation on Chinese bureaucracy involved work in the Department of Sociology, the Graduate School of Business, and the East-Asian Institute.