

John Costello, Senior Analyst for Cyber and East Asia, Flashpoint

John Costello is a senior analyst for cyber and East Asia at the business risk intelligence firm Flashpoint. He formerly served as a New America Congressional Innovation Fellow with the Republican staff of the House Oversight and Government Reform IT Subcommittee (reporting to Chairman Chaffetz and Chairman Hurd). Mr. Costello previously worked as an Analyst at Defense Group Inc's Center for Intelligence Research and Analysis, where he researched China's defense establishment and use of information operations as tools of state power. While a member of the U.S. Navy and intelligence community, John established himself as a leading thinker in Chinese cyber warfare, emerging technologies, and information warfare. John holds a BA from University of Maryland University College and graduated with honors from the Defense Language Institute and is fluent in Chinese Mandarin. John most recently co-authored a chapter on Chinese information warfare in the edited volume China's Evolving Military Strategy.

Mr. Costello testified before the Commission in 2016.
