

Dr. Rebecca Pincus
Assistant Professor, Strategic and Operational Research Department,
U.S. Naval War College

Rebecca Pincus is Assistant Professor in the Strategic and Operational Research Department (SORD) in the Center for Naval Warfare Studies at the U.S. Naval War College, and a member of the Institute for Future Warfare Studies within SORD. She previously served as primary investigator (PI) at the U.S. Coast Guard's Center for Arctic Study and Policy (CASP), located at the U.S. Coast Guard Academy. While at CASP, she served as lead author on the Coast Guard's High Latitude Study Addendum on polar icebreaking, and supported U.S.-Russian Federation negotiation of shipping corridors in the Bering Strait. Her research on Arctic security issues has been published in academic journals (Polar Geography, War and Society, and others) as well as in popular outlets like War on the Rocks, the BBC, and others. In 2015, she was a Fulbright Fellow in Iceland. Also in 2015, Yale University Press released her co-edited book, Diplomacy on Ice: Energy and the Environment in the Arctic and Antarctica. Dr. Pincus earned her PhD in 2013 from the University of Vermont.

Dr. Pincus has not previously testified before the Commission.
